Because some visitors are uninvited

Siemens is dedicated to developing integrated intruder detection and security systems that fully communicate with each other in order to provide the most versatile solutions. We insist on the highest manufacturing standards, producing a wide range of intruder detectors of outstanding performance, durability and reliability for every application - including a completely wireless system (SiRoute). And, with Siemens as a partner, you are only ever a phone call away from total support.

Siemens: one brand, one partner - one system.
